

Christine Vigna, Chief People Officer

As Chief People Officer, Christine is responsible for the creation and execution of programs and services that deliver on Dejero's people strategy – to provide an exceptional employee experience and continue to grow and develop its corporate culture. Prior to joining Dejero, Christine held a diverse range of roles in human resources, as advisor, and project management-focused roles in the not-for-profit, regulatory body, and technology sectors. Christine holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology from the University of Western Ontario, a Graduate Certificate in Human Resources Management from Conestoga College, and she is a Certified Human Resources Leader. Christine is active in the Waterloo Region community. She serves as Past President on the Board of Directors of a local charitable organization and she also mentors HR professionals in the early stages of their career.