

Bogdan Frusina, Founder and Chief Technology Officer

Bogdan Frusina, Founder and Chief Technology Officer, established Dejero in 2008 and brings over 20 years of experience in technology innovation and entrepreneurship. He is responsible for the strategic direction and vision of Dejero's technology, as well as building and maintaining strong relationships with customers and partners.

His experience traveling with journalists covering election campaigns inspired him to develop a mobile broadcasting platform that overcame the limitations and high costs of traditional newsgathering. Earlier in his career, Bogdan held roles at Research In Motion (now BlackBerry) and founded several start-up ventures. His guiding vision continues to shape Dejero's reputation as a pioneer in delivering reliable connectivity solutions for mission-critical communications worldwide.